ABOVE: Finelines Construction Projects is responsible for building this incredible home as per the architectural designs and specifications. Formed in 2008 and a specialist in residential, industrial and commercial construction, the company takes pride in offering a hands-on approach to ensure the highest quality of workmanship and creating a high-quality product and experience in the process.

The rugged landscape is perfectly framed by floor-to-ceiling windows on either side of the open-plan living area, and a statement fireplace creates a striking focal point in between. It's no wonder the home owners have chosen this piece of the countryside as their own personal refuge.

"We were immediately attracted by the ambience of Dullstroom and the views the stand offered," says the home owner. "The interior décor style is comfortable, yet elegant and stylish, and embraces the traditional English backdrop of the estate."

LEFT: Lateral Designs Interiors offers a broad-spectrum decorating and design service and is responsible for the look and feel of this modern countryside home. Fuelled by a creative and passionate team, the company provides everything from floor plans to space planning as well as custom-made furniture and window treatments for the ultimate in client satisfaction.

If this home had to be summed up in a single word, it would be warm. This is one of the most important characteristics a home should have. "One should long to be in their home because that is their sanctuary."

It's also an important feature on a more practical level too. "The climate in Dullstroom varies substantially from what we are used to in the Lowveld, ranging from cool to extremely cold, and this dictates a different lifestyle from the one in our >

"If the home had to be summed up in a single word, it would be warm."

BELOW: Patio Warehouse supplied the Aruba sofas and lounge chair, adding two Aruba dining chairs and a white all-weather wicker Disa coffee table to complete the look. Made from all-weather wicker and wood, the Aruba collection lives as happily outside as it does in, mixing and matching with other pieces with ease.
